

Press Release-15 September 2014 When Expertise meets Technology...

When the technical expertise and proven experience of a payroll provider meets technologically advanced IT solutions, it becomes possible to offer a wide range of services suited to meet the needs of companies and their employees.

IF Payroll & HR, payroll provider recognized on the market, and IF Online, IT provider, combined their technical expertise in order to develop new services.

Launched a few months ago, Mypay.lu allows each employee to access their payslips or earning certificates on a secure Internet portal.

Karine Beauvois, Payroll & Mypay.lu Project Manager, says: « In a digital age focus on mobility, offering our clients and employees a secured access to their salary documents on every support (pc, digital tablet, smartphone) provides us a real competitive advantage on the market ».

Mydocs.lu, as a platform for the exchange of documents between the company and the payroll provider, ensures the security and simplicity of the exchange and storage of documents.

«With the increasing number of emails, the size of attachments and because email is essentially not secure, we had to find an optimum solution that meets our customers' expectations, especially for the salary data, which is always very sensitive » adds Arnaud Leclercq, IT Manager at IF Online.

Then, Myhrboard.lu is a HR interface with an easy and user-friendly access intended for the company and the employee. For example, the interface enables the employee, even by remote access and from their smartphone, to fulfill their leave application, to check their leave balance, or to modify personal information. For the company, Myhrboard.lu promotes easy and intuitive communication, enables to manage staff digital files, generate updated reports (vacation leave scheduling, headcount, key dates...) and to receive notifications for significant events (end of trial period, deadlines...).

« By offering these advantages of modern times, we respond to the needs of current generations, while at the same time anticipating those of future generations” concludes Isabelle Brandebourg, Risk & Quality Manager at IF Payroll & HR.
